▼ 🛍️ OFFER 7 — Custom Products

What It Is

Branded tournament merchandise available at wholesale prices through the CGT Event Products store. The TC positions this as a sponsorship revenue strategy — the tournament sells a product sponsorship to a local business, buys the product from Dixon at wholesale, and keeps the profit.

How the Profit Model Works

▼ 📦 OFFER 8 — Sponsorship Packages

What It Is

Ready-made sponsorship tiers built into the CGT platform. The TC shows these during the CGT walkthrough under Event Management → Sponsor Packages.

When to Offer

- POC already sells sponsorships but has a disorganized structure
- POC mentions they want to grow their sponsorship revenue
- During the CGT walkthrough — always show Sponsor Packages after the pricing/sponsorship video

How to Present It

1. After the pricing/sponsorship video, click Event Management → Sponsor Packages
2. Show the pre-built tiers available in the platform

3. Explain that these can be customized by the CGT customer service team

TC Notes

- The CGT TA can customize sponsorship packages for the tournament — mention this when booking the CGT appointment
- Sponsorship packages are a major upsell opportunity — tournaments that sell sponsorships are already primed for custom products

▼ 🕳️ OFFER 9 — Hole-in-One Insurance

What It Is

Prize insurance that allows the tournament to offer a large hole-in-one prize (e.g., a car or $10,000 cash) without paying for it unless someone actually makes the hole-in-one. Available at wholesale pricing through the CGT Event Products store.

When to Offer

- POC mentions wanting to offer a big prize but is worried about cost
- POC already buys hole-in-one insurance elsewhere
- After the CGT walkthrough and custom products discussion

TC Notes

- Position as risk-free: "You only pay the insurance premium. If no one makes the hole-in-one, you still had the excitement of the prize without paying out"
- Available through CGT Event Products at wholesale pricing

▼ 🤝 OFFER 10 — Consulting Support

What It Is

The TC positions themselves as a free tournament consultant — available for questions, committee calls, and ongoing support throughout the planning process. The TC's only revenue comes from product purchases in CGT.

The Pitch

> "Perhaps the most valuable tool I can offer is myself. I want to make your tournament a success, as we have done for tens of thousands of tournaments. I want to be part of your team. If you ever have questions, I am available. I can even call into committee meetings as needed."

> "The only way I make money is when you buy stuff in the Event Products tool. You do not have to purchase anything, but you do get wholesale pricing and I would like for you to take advantage of it."

What the TC Does After the Call

- Sends a follow-up email with contact information from the dixonchallenge.com tournament page
- Sets a monthly follow-up to check in on CGT usage, product orders, and event prep
- Available for committee calls and event questions

TC Notes

- This is the close of the call — always deliver it
- The consulting frame removes pressure from the product pitch
- Monthly follow-up is automatic in Calling Mode — use it

▼ 🏦 OFFER 11 — Auction Referral

What It Is

A referral to a virtual fundraising partner that runs online auctions for charities. Described as a combination of Amazon, GoFundMe, and eBay. The TC sets up a 15-minute intro call between the POC and an auction consultant.

When to Use

- Tournament is several months out and the client wants to raise money now
- Tournament canceled or was declined for on-course games
- Client is open to additional fundraising beyond the golf tournament

The Pitch

> "Would you like some more money in the meantime? I want to introduce you to a unique virtual fundraising opportunity from one of our partners. It is risk-free and takes very little effort on your part. There is nothing quite like it but it has been described as a combination of Amazon, GoFundMe and eBay all-in-one."

> "I want to set up a time so one of their fundraising experts can explain all the details to you. It only takes a 15-minute phone conversation. There is no pressure and I guarantee that you will make money."

How to Execute

1. Click Refer Auction in the database and fill out the form
2. Confirm the POC received a confirmation email — if not, check spam
3. Note the appointment in the database

TC Notes

- This is a rescue offer — use it when the main pitch did not land
- It is also a goodwill builder — even if they do not book the challenge, they leave the call with something valuable
- Do not lead with this — it is always an add-on or fallback
